Indications Are Bowles to Get Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy indicated after a conference with Chester Bowles today that the former ambassador and Connecticut governor will be offered a place in his administration.

Kennedy was not definite as to what post he might have in mind for the man who was his chief campaign foreign policy adviser. Bowles has been among those mentioned as possible choices for secretary of state in the new Cabinet.

But Kennedy, standing in the doorway of his Georgetown home with Bowles, told questioners their 65-minute breakfast talk did not involve the future of Bowles, who is a retiring member of the House of Representatives.

"We didn't discuss that," Kennedy told newsmen but added, "We will be discussing it."

Kennedy passed up a question as to what place that might be.

Kennedy said the conference this morning concerned the world situation generally.

Mr. Bowles has talked to a good many representatives of other governments, both here and in New York, and brought me up to

Judge Permits Sale of Land

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley Monday signed an order permitting Thomas P. Florida to sell 40 acres of Mississippi County farm land for $8,000.

The land was once owned by George and Andrew Florida, Osceola brothers, and pledged as security for loans that Thomas Florida, another brother, obtained in their behalf from the United Planters National Bank at Memphis.

The properties of George and Andrew Florida are under receivership pending a decision in an $11 million federal tax suit against them, and court approval of the sale had to be made.

Slayer Caught in California Kidnaping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Marrone, 31, a convicted murderer wanted for the kidnaping of a wealthy California sportsman, was arrested early today in Los Angeles, the FBI announced here.

The FBI said Marrone was unarmed and offered no resistance

Troops Act to Crush Riots in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Strict security measures were enforced by troops today as President Romulo Betancourt's moderate Socialist government moved to crush leftist rioting that has raged since Friday.

The rioting, apparently inspired by admirers of Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba, resulted in one person being killed Monday. Altogether four have been killed since the start. Scores have been injured and up to 200 are reported in jail.

The rioting so far has been confined to Caracas, capital of this oil-rich nation. Riot leaders have directed their fiercest attacks on police stations.

Authorities had a free hand under a suspension of civil guarantees.

Army navy and air force commanders made a special trip to the presidential palace to pledge support to Betancourt, a pipe-smoking intellectual who has tried to steer Venezuela on a moderate Socialist path since taking office two years ago after the ousting of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Arkansas Girl Is 4-H Winner

CHICAGO (AP) — Patsy Cole III, of Jonesboro, Ark., was named national clothing winner and recipient of a $400 scholarship at the 39th National 4-H Club Congress here today.

One of her award-winning costumes was a strapless gown of black net over black tulle which she made for $5.91.

Miss Cole has exhibited 87 garments in community, county and district fairs and received ribbons for each, including 62 first place awards. A complete outfit she fashioned was displayed in a Jonesboro women's store during National 4-H Club Week in 1958.

Miss Cole is the daughter of Mrs. W. H. Cole of Jonesboro.

Train, School Bus Collision Fatal to 18

LAMONT, Alta. (AP) — A Canadian National Railway train struck a loaded school bus here today and a school official said about half the 32 children aboard were killed.

The crash came in subzero weather at a grade crossing a quarter mile from the railroad station of Lamont, 45 miles north-east of Edmonton, Alberta's capital.

Harry Shuruk, chairman of the Lamont School Board, gave the estimate that half the children died. Others were injured.

The wreckage was carried down the track into the town itself and the victims were strewn along the right-of-way.

Frank Butney, driver of the bus, survived.

M. Woycenko, secretary-treasurer of the school division, said the train — a through freight — struck the bus "smack in the middle."

He said the students were mainly from the Chipman district, 10 miles southeast of Lamont.

They attended grades 10, 11 and 12.

Kennedy's Shaping for Changeover

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy, reporting progress on shaping his new administration, keeps digging today at the job of filling high level positions and charting a policy course.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, promised what he called a "hard news" announcement during the day but would provide no clue as to the nature of it.

Salinger did indicate the announcement would be something other than the president-elect's choice of a budget director, expected to be disclosed this week.

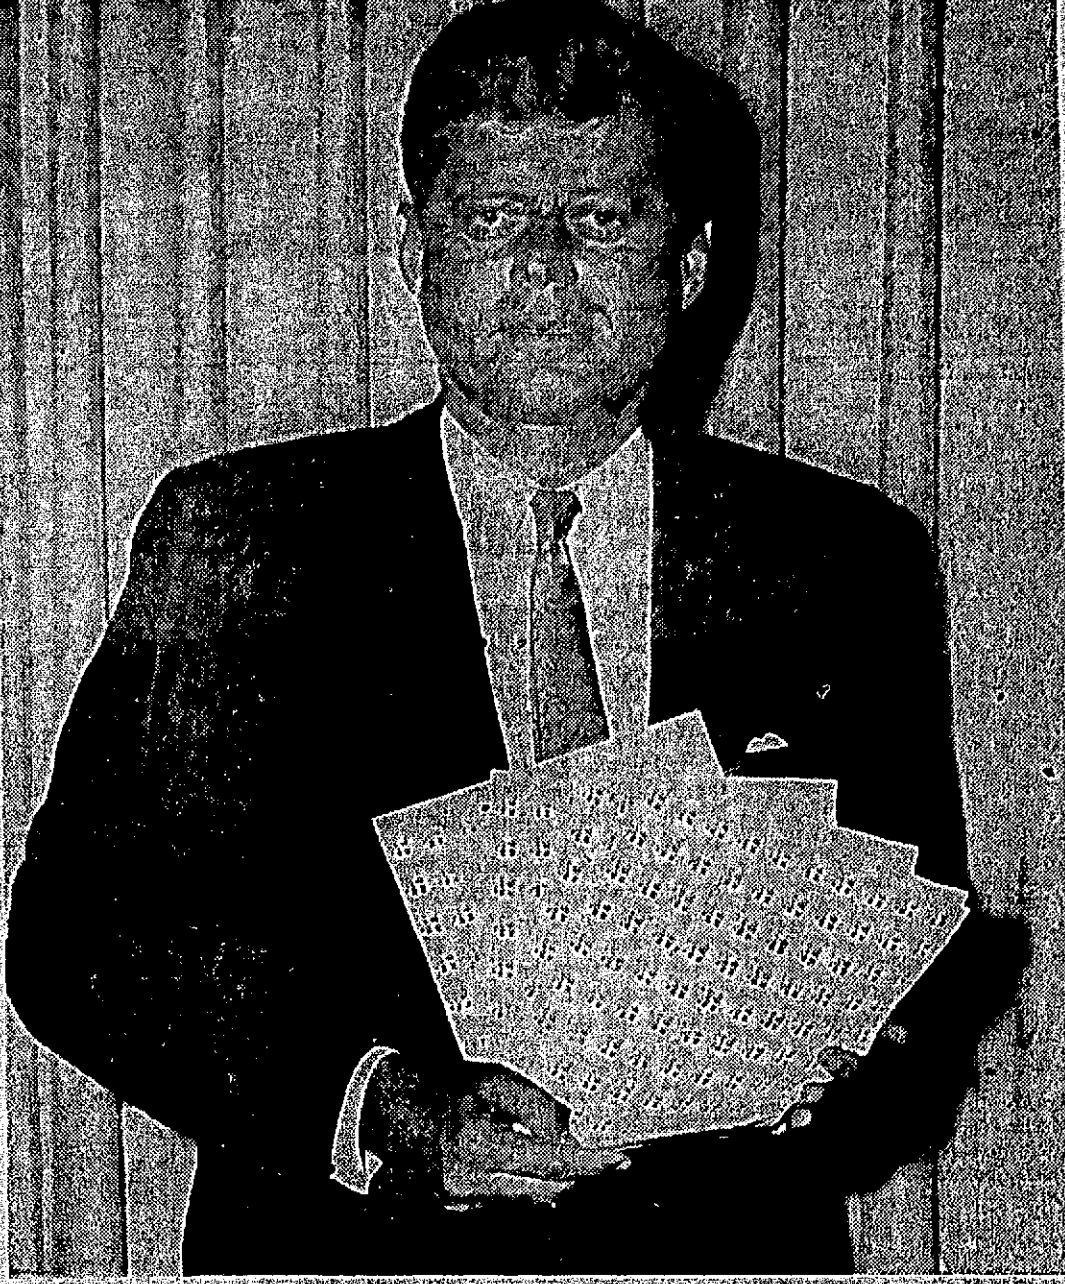

The press secretary repeated that while Kennedy is consulting daily with advisers regarding the picking of his Cabinet, disclosure of the first selections probably would come before next week.

In between visits to the hospital to see his wife and newborn son, the president-elect had a busy weekend preparing to take over direction of the government Jan. 20.

He had a dinner conference at his Georgetown home Sunday night with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson. Kennedy reported afterward that he has been making progress planning the new Democratic regime, and added that Johnson is in agreement on developments to date.

Johnson accompanied to dinner by his wife and two daughters, had just returned from a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris. He was chairman of the U. S. delegation. He also conferred with French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The president-elect also conferred briefly with his brother

First Winter Storm Blamed for 6 Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's first full-blown snowstorm, which caused at least six deaths in the north-central portion of the nation, skipped across the Great Lakes region into Ontario today.

The storm expected to grow weaker by nightfall still spread high winds and blowing, drifting snow in northern areas.

Early today a heavy fog shrouded much of New York City, hampering sea, land and air traffic. More than 50 flights were delayed at Idlewild and La Guardia airports, or diverted to other fields, some as far away as Buffalo and Detroit. A ferry carrying 2,000 passengers and a tanker collided in the harbor. One passenger was slightly injured.

At midmorning, snow still was falling over an already well-blanketed area from the upper half of the Mississippi Valley to the Great Lakes region. Blowing and drifting snow added to the hazards of motoring.

Temperature readings skidded during the night. Vandalia, Ill., reported a drop of 42 degrees from 69 to 27. A few hours before dawn, Buffalo, N.Y., recorded 62 degrees—a record high for the date—contrasted to 24 below zero at Fraser, Colo. Temperatures in North Dakota were just below the zero mark; in Nebraska 5 to 10 above.

Other readings included: —15 at Havre, Mont.; —8 at Glasgow, Mont.; —10 at Williston, N.D.; —4 at West Yellowstone, Mont.; and Big Piney, Wyo.; 3 above at North Platte, Neb.; 7 above at Denver, Colo.; and 9 above at Casper, Wyo.

Gale winds whipped the snow into huge drifts in some areas. Traffic was curtailed with roads blocked in some sections. Visibility was cut to zero in Grand Forks, N.D., by snow driven by winds of 63 m.p.h. Blizzard conditions were reported in sections of the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Power and communication lines were disrupted. Schools were closed in some northern Midwest areas. Gale warnings were posted for all the Great Lakes. Traffic in some cities hit by snow and sleet was bumper to bumper for miles.

Temperatures dropped sharply as the stiff winds fanned arctic air across the mid-continent. The icy winds dropped the mercury to far below zero in parts of the Rockies and sent temperatures plunging over most areas eastward through the Mississippi Valley and southward to Texas.

Readings ranged from 14 below zero in Havre, Mont., and —15 in Fraser, Colo., to the teens in the northern and central Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley. They were in the 20s and 30s in most other parts of the cold belt.

The storm headed northeastward with indications of showers and rain spreading into the Atlantic states as the colder air moves in.

About a foot of snow covered the ground in Duluth, Minn., which with nearby Superior, Wis., reported wind gusts up to 72 m.p.h. Huge waves battered the harbor area of the twin ports and the north shore of Lake Superior.

At least six deaths were attributed to the stormy weather.

In other parts of the country, temperatures ranged from the 30s and 40s in New England to the 50s and 60s, with a few 70-degree marks along the Gulf in Florida.

Husband Is Beaten, Wife Kills Man

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MEMPHIS (AP)—A 67-year-old housewife shot and killed one man and wounded another today after she told police they broke into her home and pistol-whipped her husband during a robbery attempt.

Mrs. Holmes V. Winford of suburban Arlington fired in the darkness from her bedroom, hitting the pair after they had overpowered her 68-year-old husband.

The dead man was identified as William G. Lee in his early 20s, address unknown.

James Gordon Eastman, who gave his address as Grand Rapids, Mich., was shot in the hip.

Winford told police he was awakened when the two pounded on his door early today and asked him to call a wrecker for their stalled automobile.

He said he called the wrecker, returned to the door and faced a drawn pistol.

"I slammed the door. The men shot right through it. Then they kicked it open."

Winford fled to his bedroom. The men followed.

Winford said the intruders then pistol-whipped him, took his car keys and $19, "and hit me some more."

"It was then that Mrs. Winford opened fire from her darkened bedroom."

"I heard the commotion at the front door," Mrs. Winford said. "When they broke in, I heard my husband tell them there was no one else here but himself. I opened my bedroom door a crack and could see them beating him."

Mrs. Winford, who said she hadn't fired a gun in 40 years, got her pistol, loaded it in the dark and shot three times.

"I hailed to shoot those fellows, but when you see your husband being beaten, it doesn't take long to make up your mind," she said.

The wounded man fled the house into the arms of deputies who were making a routine check of the area.

Final Rites for Potlatch Firm Official

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Robert E. Bundy, 55, president and general manager of Potlatch Forests, Inc., died Saturday night. He had been hospitalized four days with a heart ailment.

Under Bundy's direction for the past 2 1/2 years, Potlatch had begun an expansion in the pulp and paper field starting with acquisition of Bradley Lumber Co. in Warren, Ark. in June, 1958. Potlatch now employs some 17,300 persons in Arkansas.

It also has subsidiaries at St. Louis and Skiston, Mo., and in 11 other locations.

Bundy joined Potlatch as executive vice president in September of 1956 and became president following the death of William P. Davis in March of 1958.

He also was a director of the National Association of Manufacturers, the National Technical Task Committee on Industrial Ways, and was on the wood promotion committee of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

Survivors include his widow Margaret, a daughter, Mrs. Janet

The Woman He Can't Forget!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

When I was 19 I fell in love with a girl a year and a half older. She had been married at 17, had a baby boy and was divorced. We wrote each other while I was in the service and after my discharge, went together for another year. But the idea of her being married before and older than I, mixed me up. I moved to another town and didn't write for a while. When I did write her, I got a short answer saying she had remarried.

Five years later I traveled 2,000 miles to see her for a short 30 minutes. Another year later (last week), I called her up and found her husband had died eight months ago. We talked two and a half hours on the phone. I told her how I felt. I've written five letters since but no answer.

She now has two children, has been married twice and is still one and a half years older than myself. I am 29 and feel ready for marriage. How do I win back the love I didn't realize was so deep until it was too late?

I have never married and don't want to be to anyone but this girl. I think she loves me but won't say so either because she does not believe me, or is afraid of being hurt again. What to do? —Smoky

Dear Smoky: Quite understandably, the poor girl remembers the hurt of your walking out that first time. I admire her stoicism. She has pride. A prolonged siege is the only answer. Send her thoughtful little gifts for herself and the children. Write her friendly but not too affectionate letters. Give her an idea of your hopes and dreams and daily life.

It's a case of getting acquainted all over again. The few years difference in your ages might have mattered at 19 but it can't now. You're both mature people. Don't try to pick up where you left off. She's changed and so have you. Keep that in mind when you're selling yourself. Introduce her to the new, adult you — a purposeful man who knows what he wants and intends to get it!

Dear Helen:

My husband and I go out dancing once a month with four or five other couples. It's fun. Everybody dances with everybody else in the party. But, if there is a single girl in another party, my husband winds up dancing with her, too — and they not even introduced — and I sit out the dance. Then he tells me how wonderful that girl dances. I admit I don't dance as well as I used to since I have had trouble with my leg. Am I wrong to be so sensitive? —Wondering Wife

Dear Wondering Wife: Admittedly, your husband should be more considerate of you but — don't be a kill-joy. If, because of a physical handicap you can't dance every dance, see that he does and with pretty girls too. The more rope you give him, the less likely he is to stray.

Dear Helen:

I went with my brother to look at a little dog. When I got home I asked my mother if I could get the dog. She said no. I asked her why. She said we have enough dogs. (We only have one dog.) Everyone in my family has had an animal, a dog or cat. Do you think I should get the dog or not? —Unhappy

Dear Unhappy: I love animals too and, if I had the space, time and money, would probably acquire enough to fill a zoo. At present I own a little Dachshund named Christopher, and an African gray parrot called Mito. Coco. They need a lot of loving attention and, when they are sick, money to pay the vet to make them well. Perhaps your mother was thinking of all those things when she said no to your having the little dog.

If you are prepared to care for it yourself, love it as your very own, and pay for its food

East-West Clash Over Congo Funds

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A new East-West clash was promised today as the United Nations turned to a $60-million question: Where is it going to get the $60 million to foot the Congo bill for the current year?

The 90-nation financial committee was slated to take up the issue in the wake of a winning from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld that the whole Congo operation might have to be linked unless the General Assembly makes quick arrangements for members to pay up.

The Western nations are certain to blast the announcement by the Soviet bloc that it will not pay one cent of its share of the $60 million earmarked for the Congo project this year or the estimated $120 million needed for 1961. The nine-nation bloc's percentage of the bill for the two years comes to more than $30 million.

In a move to carry the United Nations through its current financial crisis, the United States is reported to have decided to pay nearly 50 per cent of the 1960 Congo cost.

of a new downtown streetlighting system.

Five of the injured were in a parking lot attendant's booth which was rammed by the auto-mobilia after a collision with another car. The other two injured were in the second car involved in the collision.

Miss Madeline Holland, 60, of Little Rock told officers she pulled her car up to a stop sign but apparently stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake. The car struck one driven by A. C. Fowlkes, 61, also of Little Rock, then rammed the small metal building where the registration was underway.

Fowlkes' wife, Josephine, 42, and another passenger in the car, Henry F. Cook 28 of Little Rock, were injured.

The injured persons in the booth were Mrs. Frances (Hilborn) 33; Mrs. R. A. Henry, 20; J. E. Mullins, 65; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stagg, both 22. All are residents of Little Rock.

Mullins remained hospitalized Monday night. Hospital authorities said Mr. and Mrs. Stagg would be released during the night and the other injured were released after emergency treatment.

The largest watermelon on record — 195 pounds — was grown in Hempstead County.

NATO Won't Be Separate Atom Power

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) says he doubts NATO will become a nuclear power of its own next month.

There has been a proposal that the United States at the NATO ministers' December meeting, sponsor a plan for nuclear arms under direct NATO control.

But Fulbright chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said after returning from a meeting of NATO parliamentarians in Paris Sunday that "this is a very complex legislative, if not constitutional, problem."

He said he doubted it could be solved before the ministers' meeting opens Dec. 1.

Nuclear weapons for NATO would come mostly from the United States. Present U. S. laws restrict release of such arms.

Fulbright said he felt it would be up to the next administration to overcome legislative and constitutional problems before the United States can offer control of nuclear arms to NATO.

The Departments of State and of Defense reportedly are ready with such a plan now after overcoming opposition from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Fulbright returned to Washington with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson who led the U.S. delegation to the parliamentarians meeting.

Industrial Bond Issues at Waldron

WALDRON Ark. (AP) - Two industrial bond issues totalling $500,000 for the construction of a hatchery and a processing plant were apparently approved by Scott County residents Monday.

With eight of 31 precincts unreported a $340,000 issue received 954 votes to 495 against. A $160,000 issue received 957 votes to 503 against.

The facilities would be leased to Arkansas Valley Industries Inc. of Dardanelle.

The larger issue would be financed by revenue bonds while the smaller issue would be financed by a five-mill property tax.

Chapter XXVI

Jason said to start with the gun. He said to think of anyone who might possibly have taken it since the night he noticed it.

"He said that?"

"Yes. He also suggested that I ask your help."

"Oh, Cliff was puzzled."

"So, for the moment, please pretend that you're convinced he's innocent."

"All right. The gun certainly is the logical place to start. How long between the time Dr. Whiting saw it and the time of the murder?"

"Just a few months. He noticed it toward the end of May. And she was killed Aug. 3."

"Who knew that you had it or could have spotted it?"

"Actually, I suppose, quite a few people knew John had a gun collection."

"Yes, but all the rest were locked up in that cabinet. They weren't stolen. Who knew you kept a gun on the shelf in the kitchen?"

"That's what I've been trying to figure out. I don't think John ever told anyone. I'm sure he didn't."

"Could we go out in the kitchen?"

"Sure

A black and white cartoon illustration by Kate Ozann. A woman with short, wavy hair is sitting on a sofa, looking up at a man with a surprised expression. The man is standing next to the sofa, leaning over its back. He is wearing a patterned long-sleeved shirt and dark trousers. The room is dimly lit, with a lamp on a side table to the right. On the wall behind the sofa is a pennant that says "Central" and two small framed pictures. A small round table with two bottles on it is in the foreground. The artist's signature "Ozann" is at the bottom right, and the date "11-29" is at the bottom left.

Bowl-Bound Elevens Take Things Easy

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

College football's bowl-bound elevens deservedly resting on their laurels today were concentrating on getting their wounded warriors into shape for the post-season classics before resuming full-scale workouts.

Duke's Atlantic Coast Conference champions, who meet Arkansas Southwest Conference (11-1) in the Jan. 2 Cotton Bowl, were the lone exception as the head coaches of the 15 other teams headed for major bowls rewarded their players with 10-day vacations.

The Blue Devils (7-2) close out the regular season Saturday against UCLA at Los Angeles. The Razorbacks (8-2), who'll resume practice a week from Friday, expect to have No. 1 fullback Joe Paul Alberty at full strength for the Cotton Bowl along with end Leslie Lelsinger. Both have been hobbled most of the year.

Co-Big Ten champ Minnesota (9-1) which meets Washington (9-1) in the Rose Bowl expects to hold no more than two or three formal practice sessions, before leaving for California. Fullback Tom Robbins, the Gophers' kicking specialist, hurt on the first play of the season may be available for duty.

The Huskies will be at full strength for their defense of the Rose Bowl (11-0) with all-America quarterback Bob Schloredt returning to action for the first time since Oct. 15, when he broke his collarbone in the UCLA game. Halfback Don McKeta, who gashed his calf against Washington State also will be ready.

Florida (8-2) has two key operatives on the injured list—end Tom Smith and halfback Dick Skelly—and their status for the Gator Bowl encounter with Baylor (8-2) Dec. 31, still is uncertain. The Bears are physically sound.

Navy (9-1) and Missouri (9-1) reported no front-line players sidelined now that Tigers' quarterback Jim Johnson out with a broken thumb since Oct. 29 is rounding into form for the Orange Bowl. Sugar Bowl foes Mississippi (9-1) and Rice (7-3) also found their casualty lists clean.

The same was true for Penn State (6-3) and Oregon (7-2-1) who'll clash in the Liberty Bowl, and Bluebonnet opponents Texas (7-3) and Alabama (8-1-1). These four teams, being workouts at the end of the week with their post-season meetings set for Dec. 17.

New Mexico State (10-0) one of the two major unbeaten and untied teams, has all hands in shape.

Tech Defeats John Brown U.

SIDAM SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Tech broke a 34-34 halftime tie and went on to score an 81-64 victory over John Brown University Monday night in the opening game of the season for the Wonder Boys.

Top scorer for John Brown was Spedy Branstetter who hit 23 points. J.P. Lovelady scored 22 points for Tech.

It was Lovelady who put the Techsters into the lead to stay moments after the horn blew for the second half.

Three Porkers Named to All-SW Team

Southwest All-Conference—BUT DALLAS (AP)—Indicative of the brand of football due in the Southwest Conference next season is the fact that most of this year's All-Conference team are juniors.

Six of them are on a team that had three unanimous selections: Arkansas, the conference champion, placed the most men on the team selected for the Associated Press by the eight coaching staffs.

The Razorbacks, who play Duke in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2 came up with Lance Alworth in the backfield Wayne Harris at guard and Jim Collier at end.

Harris actually made the team at two positions. He tied E. J. Holub of Texas Tech for center and also got enough votes for guard to make one of those positions.

Ronnie Bull-Baylor, junior; Monte Lee Texas senior; and Bob Lilly, Texas Christian senior, were the unanimous choices—Bull at a halfback post Lee at guard and Lilly at tackle.

Johnny Burrell, a Rice junior, got the other end position.

Jerry Mays played on a team that didn't win a game—Southern Methodist—but he was picked at one of the tackles.

Rounding out the backfield were Jim Saxton of Texas and Roland Jackson of Rice.

The seniors are Lilly, Mays, Lee, Harris and Holub.

Loved Jump From Plane, Says Coed

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—"It was wonderful. I loved it," cried 18-year-old Jackie Venable, a 108-pound college coed, moments after landing from her first parachute jump.

"I didn't even feel a jerk," the pig-tailed blonde added. "It was just great."

Her parents were less enthusiastic about Jackie's leap from 2,300 feet in the air Sunday. Her mother couldn't even watch though her father, Doyle Venable of North Little Rock, joined about 2,000 other persons in watching Jackie.

"I was sure glad to see that chute open," Venable said.

Her parents had agreed to let Jackie jump just once with the Arkansas Tech Parachute Club, a group of sky-divers who bail out of airplanes for fun. It was the club's 100th jump and the first by a girl.

Jackie, the only female in the club, said, "I was petrified when I was trying to get out of the plane."

Her jumpmaster, Pete Collins of Mabelvale, had to push her to get her to grab the plane's strut.

Then she let go and fell until a line snapped the parachute open.

Special Vote on Representation
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Legislative sources said Monday that a special election to select a successor to H.M. McCastlain of Brinkley, Monroe County representative, elect who died Friday may be held Dec. 27.

McCastlain was to have succeeded George W. Staggs, and under state election laws Staggs will remain in office until a new legislator is chosen.

Arkansas Dips in Final Grid Poll of Season

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota, the comeback team of the year won the national college football championship today in the final Associated Press poll of the 1960 season.

In a remarkably close vote the Golden Gophers, last-place team of the Big Ten last year and co-champions this season, beat out Mississippi's Southeastern Conference champions for the title. Iowa, which battled Minnesota right down to the wire and drew even in the Big Ten race, was a very close third.

The difference on the ballots of 48 sports writers and broadcasters forming The Associated Press regional boards was 1½ first-place votes and 22½ points. One voter, unable to decide between the Big Ten co-champions, split his vote between Minnesota and Iowa.

That gave Minnesota 17½ first-place votes and a total of 430½ points on the basis of 10 for each first place, 9 for second etc. down to one for 10th. Mississippi concluding a highly successful season last Saturday with a 35-9 victory over Mississippi State drew 16 votes for first place and 411 points. Iowa with 17½ firsts had 407½ points.

Minnesota was declared national champion in the first Associated Press ranking poll in 1930 when the Gophers' string of 28 games without a loss was ended by a 6-0 defeat by Northwestern.

The final ranking of the leaders, with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Minnesota (17½) 430½
2. Mississippi (16) 411
3. Iowa (12½) 407½
4. Navy 262
5. Missouri 253
6. Washington (2) 250
7. Arkansas 212
8. Ohio State 138
9. Alabama 53
10. Duke 46

Others receiving votes were: Kansas 40, Baylor 35, Auburn 25, Yale 17, Michigan State 16, Penn State 15, New Mexico State 8, Florida 6, Syracuse and Purdue 4 each, Rice 3, Oregon 2, Tennessee, Michigan and Texas, 1 each.

'Conjure' Woman Steals Clothes
NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A white "conjure" woman made off with $850 worth of clothes Friday, and the Negro woman who owned the wardrobe said the woman may have been the same one who did her out of a red fox furpiece in 1928.

Mrs. Emma Dunn said the woman offered to help her avoid any trouble if she would turn over the clothes which were to be returned the next day after the "evil" was ward off.

When the clothing was not returned Mrs. Dunn notified police. So far no trace has been found of the clothes or the "conjure woman."

Mrs. Dunn said she was stricken with a non-diagnosable illness which a white woman offered to cure in 1928. Mrs. Dunn provided the furpiece for the woman to open.

As for the result of that bit of supernatural dabbling, Mrs. Dunn said she was eventually cured but gives no credit to the "conjure woman."

Workers Find Castro Plan Bitter Pill

Editor's Note—Harold K. Mills, chief of The Associated Press Caribbean service and former bureau chief in Moscow visited Cuba's rich sugar and cattle areas to find out how things are going under the Castro regime. Here is a report.

CAMAGUEY, Cuba (AP)—Thousands of eastern Cuba's sugar and cattle workers are finding Soviet-style collectivization under Fidel Castro a bitter pill to swallow.

Many of them are saying so openly, despite the menace of Castro's Communist-armed militiamen, who are penetrating every segment of life in Oriente and Camaguey provinces.

A tour of these key provinces in Cuba's economy showed growing dissatisfaction among rural workers as well as city businessmen.

The opposition is taking many forms—from joking about learning Russian to outright physical opposition to the Castro revolutionary government and its program.

A Russian refugee who moved with the times and opened a school to teach Russian had trouble finding four students. By contrast, English classes at the Cuban-American Binational Institute are still crowded.

Grain Buildup Called Problem

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A buildup of feed grains remains an "omnibus problem" Clay Moore, University of Arkansas extension economist, told the Production Credit Association's executive committee Monday.

However no drastic changes in the nation's agriculture economy is expected during 1961, Moore said.

Among other things Moore told the group:

Little change in farm prices or income is expected during 1961. Increased production will continue to be a problem.

"We have complaints but Castro has guns. We are a lot of unorganized people feeling alike in our opposition to Castro and to communism but he has the organization—army and militia. Anyone who openly acts against that combination is crazy," he explained.

There are still many Cubans in all walks of life who are waiting for the United States to "do something to help us." Many of these look forward to an invasion backed by Washington as a means of overthrowing Castro.
